OLD FAITH AND NEW THEOLOGY

DISCUSSED AT CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH LAST EVENING.

INSTALLATION OF PASTOR

Made Memorable by Addresses Which Dr. Gonsaulus, Dr. Snyder, Dr. Updyke, and Others Delivered.

Rev. H. A. Miner of Madison called to order the ecclesiastical council which assembled in the auditorium of the First Congregational church at half-past two o'clock yesterday afternoon for the purpose of receiving and installing Dr. David Benton as the new pastor, and read a copy of the letters of introduction which summoned the assembly. He then placed in nomination as moderator of the council the Hon. T. C. McMillan of Chicago, clerk of the U. S. court and Moderator of the National Council of Congregational churches, and the latter was unanimously elected. Rev. John W. Wilcox of Lake Geneva was named as Scribe. Roll called showed the following representation at the session: Rev. (First and Second and Gridley Congregational churches), Brodhead, Clinton, Edgerton, Elkhorn, Emerald Grove, Evansville, Lake Geneva, Milton, Palmyra, Plattville, Shopley, Stoughton, Watworth, Whitewater.

Local Pastors as Associates.
A majority of the heads of churches and other individuals invited being present, the Council was formally organized with the temporary Moderator and Scribe as permanent officers and the Moderator led in prayer. On motion of Rev. H. A. Miner the following individual pastors of the local churches and others were invited to sit as associates of the Council: Rev. Henry Williams, Rev. Wm. A. Goshel, Rev. Eugene E. Kelly, Rev. J. J. McManis, Rev. J. W. Langhille, D. D., Rev. J. C. Hazen, Rev. T. D. Williams, Rev. Wilford A. Johnson, Rev. C. J. Koerner, Rev. Paul F. Worth, Rev. W. P. Christy, Rev. L. A. McIntyre, Rev. John Reynolds, Rev. John McKinney, Capt. Robt. Fleming, Mr. J. C. Kline, Rev. W. C. Daland.

In response to the Moderator's request, Hon. John M. Whitehead, clerk of the church, read the records relative to the call extended to Dr. Benton and the latter's letter of acceptance; also the action of the congregation in appointing a committee to issue the letters of introduction summoning the Council. These proceedings were declared by a vote to be entirely satisfactory.

Dr. Benton gave reasons for his coming to Janesville, and presented a comprehensive paper covering his religious experience, his theological attitude and beliefs, and his reasons for serving as a Christian minister. He followed his formal statement with an extemporaneous discussion of certain interesting points of belief, in answer to questions asked by members of the Council. In response to a question by Rev. H. W. Carter, Dr. Benton stated that he is a member of the First Congregational church of Janesville, that he has his ministerial standing in the Chicago Congregational Association and that he has ordination credentials. On motion of President Eaton of Bollet College it was voted that the examination be read at this point and that the Council be by itself.

Approved by Council.
When, on motion of Rev. T. C. McMillan, the roll was called to determine the feelings of the members with reference to Dr. Benton's paper and discussions, they expressed their hearty approval without dissent. Thereupon the Council returned to the auditorium and Rev. P. D. Jackson of Milton, Rev. H. W. Carter of Bollet, and President Eaton of Bollet College it was voted that the examination be read at this point and that the Council be by itself.

Evening Session Opened.
The evening session was opened at seven o'clock in the presence of an expectant congregation which taxed the seating capacity of the auditorium. Following the singing of a hymn and music by the chorus, Moderator T. C. McMillan announced the program for the evening. In his charge to the pastor, Dr. P. M. Snyder of Rockford, after alluding in a happy vein to scholarly attainments which would make any advice to Dr. Benton along that line superfluous, said that he would go back to a half dozen words spoken to him by one of the saints—at William College, near the beginning of his ministerial career. Prof. Gibson, who was the furthest removed from saying conventional things and who lived so near his Heavenly Father that one couldn't talk with him without feeling an inspiration and uplift, had once said: "Snyder, save men—never mind their souls." The speaker, perhaps, would never have dared to put it in just that way. It was a most inclusive utterance and resolved in simple terms the whole change in theological teaching from the old attitude which divided men into saints and sinners, saved and lost, and in theory, at least, made salvation the technical thing of bringing them from one side to the other. Salvation is no longer a mere technical adjustment of debts and credits, but a readjustment of life that extends to factory and forum and the busy mart. "Which means that directly, through the church, you ought to touch all the life of the city with a fuller sense of brotherhood and the meaning and beauty of existence. You are called not to give the best in you to petty things on the circumference of life, but to fire men with the noblest inspirations. There are two dozen people who know how to secure practical results in this community better than you do. Let them do it."

Charge to the People.
Dr. E. G. Updyke of Madison, in his charge to the people, declared that it was almost as important that a congr-

CARDINALS TAKE ON "COLLEGIATE" FIVE

Team Composed of Players From University Will Meet Local Basketball Quintet Tonight.

Much interest attaches to the basketball game at the rink this evening between the "Cardinals" and the collegiate team of Madison. The Madison five is a strong and speedy bunch and under collegiate rules may be able to best the locals. The Capital City squad also has had the advantage of training under an athletic coach at the university, the players being with the Freshman team recently disbanded. Thus far the "Cardinals" have been very successful in their games and no team that has come here has succeeded in "putting it over" them, although Stoughton came very near doing it. This may have had the effect of making them over-confident in their powers, but they know of the strength of the Madison quintet and are prepared for a good, stiff game. If they win, it will be a victory as hard won as the one when the Maun Work team lost to the players in red. The contest will be very clean and gentlemanly. The lineup for Janesville will be: Bennett, center; Cunningham and Robertson, forwards; Langdon and Beers, guards.

Attention Elkal.
The next regular meeting of Lodge No. 251 will be held Tuesday, March 15. Initiation. A proposition to present a theatrical attraction on March 20 will come before the lodge for action. Every member is requested to be present.

Teachers at Convention: Superintendent H. C. Inell and about ten teachers of the schools of the city went to Plattville this morning to attend the convention of the Southern Wisconsin Teachers' association there. Returned to Jefferson last evening and will be back here again Monday noon.

LAST STUDY HOUR AT THE PUBLIC LIBRARY

Final Gathering of Season for Children at Library Will Be Tomorrow.

The story hours for children at the public library will end with the session there tomorrow morning and on next Saturday, March 13, the Outdoor Club will be reorganized. This plan of Saturday meetings for the young people, now in its second year, has proved most successful and full of interest for the children. The first year it was a notable success and this year has been even better. Last year the membership of the Outdoor Club grew so rapidly and so large that it was almost impossible for the one in charge to look after the youngsters. Previous to the summer vacation there were studies of birds, bees and flowers with talks by the boys and girls at the library and then outdoor trips for bird study were taken. By the time the schools closed the members of the club were thoroughly interested in and had taken up the study of Nature. The membership of the Outdoor Club this year promises to be even larger than before. A large share of those who attended the meetings last year will begin again this year and many who were not associated with the club in 1909 are planning to join this year.

SEED CORN IS OPEN TO SOME SPECULATION

According to W. D. Austin, Who Found Half of His Would Not Show 100 Per Cent Germination.

All conditions excepting possibly one point to a bumper corn crop for 1910. The one, according to W. D. Austin, who lives west of town on the Footville road and is a graduate of the U. of W. College of Agriculture, short course, consists in the doubtful character of the seed corn, both in this and neighboring states. Prof. Holden of the Iowa state agricultural department tested samples of seed received from many farmers in the big corn belt and found fifty per cent of it way below standard. Mr. Austin has tested two-thirds of his seed corn and found that half of it would not show 100 per cent germination. He believes that others will find conditions not dissimilar as the crop last year was below standard. The usual careless test is made by taking a kernel each from some ten ears and planting them in a box by the stove. If the general results seem good, the grower takes it for granted that his seed, in the main, is good. The better method and the one adopted by Mr. Austin is to take 3 to 4 kernels from a line circling in a spiral from the top to the bottom of each ear and keep a record of the plantings. As there are from 500 to 800 kernels on an ear, and 75 ordinary ears will make a bushel, and a bushel will plant from 8 to 10 acres, the advisability of making the more painstaking test cannot be questioned. Planting in this section usually begins about the 10th of May.

IRISH OBJECT TO BEING RIDICULED

Would Put Ban on Jokes and Caricatures on Sons of Emerald Isle in Theatres and on Picture Postcards.

Members of the Ancient Order of Hibernians all over the country and Irishmen generally are protesting against the caricatures of the Irish folk and customs on pictures and postcards and say that these things must go. The principal objection is made to making St. Patrick, the patron saint of the Emerald Isle, a mark for ridicule. The agitation has been taken up with theatre managers and in a number of playhouses Irish comedy acts are forbidden. The statement made by the famous Irishman recently will be heartily agreed to by the sons of the "emerald isle" in this city. Said he: "The determination of the Ancient Order of Hibernians to have the feelings of the Irish people respected in these matters, has made men cautious; so that no one of intelligence or business enterprise will now display anything tending to mock or deride the Irish or their patron saint. We have found businessmen in almost every case, alive to their own interests, in sympathy with our movement and thoroughly disgusted with the mean, insulting caricaturing of Ireland's people and Ireland's saints."

BRODHEAD.

Brodhead, March 11.—The farmers and stock raisers of the community are urged to attend the meeting Saturday in Broughton's opera house at 1 o'clock, at which time the tuberculosis question will be discussed. John G. Adams, secretary of the Waukesha Dairymen's association, will be present, and take part in the discussion. Attend and learn some things you do not now know.

Word has been received by Brodhead friends of the marriage at Salem, Mo., of Mr. Oswald Moore, formerly of this city, and Miss Smalley of the former place.

Mrs. Charity Houscarter spent Thursday in Janesville.

Mrs. Willard Davies went to Belvidere on Thursday to remain a short time with friends.

Rev. J. Lloyd Smith was in Janesville on Thursday to attend a meeting of Congregational churches.

Miss May Mitchell is expected home from Clarksville, Iowa, on Monday. She will remain here for a month and then go to California to visit a sister.

A speaker representing the Anti-Slavery League of Milwaukee, will address the M. E. church congregation on Sunday morning and a union meeting in Broughton's opera house in the evening.

The last club dance of the season will be given on Friday evening, Mar. 18th. Music by the Knoff and Hatch orchestra of Janesville.

West Webster came up from Aurora on Tuesday and was called back again on Wednesday. He is engaged in shearing sheep.

John Guichet, the newsboy's friend, will give a lecture in Brodhead soon under the auspices of the high school.

Newsies, O. G. Gieseler, Ed. McNair, E. R. Woodling and W. H. Fleet are jurors for the March term of court drawn from Brodhead.

Perseverance Wins.

As Browning puts it, many a man who aims at a million misses the unit. We get in this world what we go after, and the sooner we start the better. The brave old Dr. Johnson said there were a great many doubts that do not deserve to be cleared. Let us make up our minds that to keep at work with all one's might is a better thing than to contemplate critically the unrelenting industry of some one else. And when we have chosen our work, let us not change it lightly for an occupation which at first blush seems more congenial; whatever we make up our minds to do, let us do it flexibly and resolutely persevering in the doing.

The Question To the Farmer

The question today, with the farmer and dairyman, is not whether they shall use a Cream Separator. The old gravity system has been superseded. The centrifugal cream separator is an economic necessity. The question today is: What kind of Cream Separator? The modern dairyman and farmer want the Cream Separator that fulfills three requirements to the highest degree: Close Skimming, Easy Running, Long Life. There is only one separator that combines leadership in all three of these requirements. That is

The United States Separator

We don't ask anybody to take our unsupported word for this claim. We back our claim with iron-clad facts. These facts are printed below.

The Great Victory At Seattle

The Grand Prize (Highest Award) for Cream Separators at the Alaska-Yukon Pacific Exposition at Seattle, Wash., was awarded the U. S. Cream Separator. There was only one Grand Prize on cream separators and that was given to the "United States" over all others. The second prize was divided between two other separators, each receiving a Gold Medal.

World Famed Pan-American Test

Of the three chief demands made upon a Cream Separator, the greatest of all is close skimming. There lies the profit or the loss.

The U. S. has been proved, in the most severe competitive test ever held, to be the closest skimmer in the world.

This test was at the Pan-American Exposition at Buffalo in 1901. It consisted of fifty consecutive tests, in competition with other separators, under actual working conditions, continuing through one month, with the milk of ten different herds of cows. The average of cream left in the skim milk in this series of fifty tests was .0138 of one per cent.

The genuineness of this record has never been honestly questioned. No other separator has ever approached this record. Mark the fact that the test was under actual working conditions. That means a U. S. on your farm, twice a day, for years, under ordinary care, will make a record no other separator can equal.

The following letter is evidence we offer:
Vermont Farm Machine Co., Bellows Falls, Vermont.

Gentlemen—Referring to the record of the work done by the U. S. Separator in the Model Dairy at the Pan-American Exposition, from September 29 to October 30, inclusive, I have the pleasure of informing you that in the fifty consecutive separate runs made by that separator during these days with the milk of ten different herds in the dairy test, the average per cent of fat left in the skim milk was .0138.

Very respectfully yours, EDWARD VAN ALSTYNE, Supt. Model Dairy.

Gold Medal Highest Awarded At National Dairy Show 1909

In the "market cream" class at the National Dairy Show, held at Milwaukee, October 14 to 24, 1909, J. Gilbert Hickcox, of Whiteland, Ind., Wis., a prominent breeder of dairy cattle, won the Gold Medal and First Prize on cream separated with the United States Separator.

Mr. Hickcox tells us in the following letter his opinion of the U. S.:
Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 27, 1909.
"Several years ago before purchasing a cream separator I tried two other makes of separators but found the U. S. the most satisfactory. Your separator has been in constant use ever since with very good results and practically no expense for repairs. At the recent National Dairy Show in the market cream competition, I won first prize (Gold Medal) with cream separated by your machine."
J. GILBERT HICKCOX.

If you are going to buy a Cream Separator come in and let us demonstrate the U. S. Separator—the one that skims closest, has the largest capacity and is the strongest made.

NORTH AFRICA

While the world is bothering about the Ashdud problem there is a question as to the future of Africa that is causing some of the powers of Europe to pay particular attention to the happenings in what might be termed the middle east of the United States. Italy is especially interested and Count Giolitti, Italy's now foreign minister, the other day made a significant statement in the Chamber of Deputies that must have made a very favorable impression on the Young Turk government. In answer to a question put by Prince Colonna concerning recent events in the French Sudan and their reaction on Tripolitania, he said that Italy's foreign policy had always regarded as an axiom the maintenance of Ottoman rule over this last remnant of Turkey's African empire.

He assured the questioner that the advance of French domination in the central Sahara was no menace to the common interests of Turkey and Italy or to the balance of power in the Mediterranean, since it was entirely within the bounds of the Anglo-French convention of 1899 recognized by the powers. Tripolitania, that is, the two Turkish vilayets of Tripoli and Benghazi, had always been tacitly regarded as Italy's share of the Ottoman heritage, being situated opposite Sicily and the Italian mainland—especially since France snatched away the Ottoman regency of Tunisia to the west of it. But the advent of the Young Turks has silenced these more or less outspoken claims and the idea is now to protect Ottoman sovereignty against possible designs of other powers.

The question of Tripolitania is one of immediate importance for three reasons. It is intimately connected with the Crotin problem, for the loss of Crete would entail that of Tripoli, for obvious geographical and strategic reasons and, vice-versa, the possession of a stretch of North African littoral means a great deal for the defense of the island.

The position of Egypt is profoundly affected by being flanked on the west as well as on the east by undisputed Ottoman territory; with the nationalist agitation bringing the country nearer and nearer a political crisis, the vicinity of Turkish Tripoli, with its fanatical sects, is acquiring more and more importance from the Ottoman, the British and Egyptian points of view. Most significant is the reaction of Tripolitanian affairs on the Sahara and Sudan, at a time when, aside from Franco-Turkish frontier incidents, the French arms are suffering severe reverses in the "interland" of the Turkish vilayets, at the hands of the Arabs.

Were it not that Tripoli and Benghazi, the Mediterranean termini of the two principal caravan routes of North Africa, make it possible for the surviving two or three independent Arab sultanates of the Sudan to keep up a lucrative slave trade and at the same time to secure modern firearms in very large quantities, the French would have reduced the central Sudan and eastern Sahara to the same peaceful conditions that now prevail farther west as well as farther east.

Turkey, by her possession of Tripolitania, is able to exert on French and British North Africa a pressure that is as subtle as it is strong, and it is the days of Abdul Hamid that pressure was made to serve Pan-Islamic dreams both in Stamboul and in the desert. It is now a powerful weapon in the hands of the Young Turks, not for dreams but for strictly utilitarian ends. How ably his highness (Hakki Pasha, the new grand vizier, has used this asset of Turkish diplomacy during his ambassadorship at the Quirinal is evidenced by the declarations of Count Giolitti.

MAY BRING CHANGE

Uncle Sam is about to begin the taking of another census to discover whether we have grown or not during the past ten years. There is much conjecture as to what the findings will be and how it will affect the future membership of congress.

It is quite likely that there will be not only a readjustment of representation in congress, but a general readjustment of popular belief respecting the distribution of population. Among many impressions likely to be disturbed and upset, one of the most important is that which credits the west and portions of the south with growth in population out of all proportion to the growth of the east. It will probably appear from the census figures of this year, as it has from those of previous decennial enumerations, that the changes in representation will be not so marked as expected. The west has grown wonderfully in the last ten years, as have certain parts of the a standstill. It is seen from the reports of the last two censuses that the gains in population were confined to no particular section, while they were more general, and for this reason more conspicuous in the new west and the new south. Illinois and Texas made large gains in representation in 1880 and in 1900. New Jersey and Pennsylvania kept pace with Minnesota and New York gained as many as Nebraska. Combined, New York, Pennsylvania and New Jersey gained eleven seats, while, combined, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin and Michigan had a net gain of only six seats, and the entire south, including Missouri, Kentucky and West Virginia, had a gain of only seventeen votes. State enumerations show that while the rate of increase of population for five years was 5 per cent for Kansas, 4 per cent for Michigan, 8 per cent for Wisconsin, 10 per cent for Wyoming, Minnesota and South Dakota, it was 7 per cent for Massachusetts, 11 per cent for New York, 14 per cent for New Jersey and Rhode Island. Iowa actually showed a decrease.

People are so prone to judge by appearances in matters relating to growth and population that when the cold figures of the census are presented to them a question is often raised as to their reliability. But the enumerators of the census, as a rule, have been vindicated by the recounts.

POLITICAL EXPEDIENCY

Often the leaders of a great political party set in motion the wheels of their organization to start something that always appears surprising to the general public and often results in a complete disruption of a political party. Political expediency is the answer always made for such charges. Wisconsin has long been the theatre of a shake-up of republican factions. Were we to believe the leaders of today political expediency demands that minor wheels be set in motion to again disrupt the conservative faction and place in opposition to the senior senator a candidate whose former allegiance has been of the most doubtful value to any organized conservative movement. The rank and file of the republicans of Wisconsin would like to see a clean sweep made of the present political leaders. The petty bickerings, the quarrels over spoils and the cry of reform by red-mouthed agitators have lost their charm. Normally republican, Wisconsin is now considered one of the muck-rump states of the union, and the majority of its representatives at Washington are at odds with the republican leaders, with the President and with the general republican policies. The state is tired of being dominated by the La Follette, the Davidson, the Stephenson, the Cook, and the Connor type of politicians and really nothing is due in the way of consideration to any of them. If some leader could come forth who was clear of any entangling alliances with any of the present leaders and assume control of the campaign policies with good honest men candidates for office it would mean a step in the right direction and one which would result in time in bringing back Wisconsin into the republican columns and not have it left as a doubtful and insurgent headquarters.

TALK ABOUT FEET

Troublesome Skin Affections Put to Rest by Poslam.

A recent exchange of experiences between ten persons developed the fact that nine of them were suffering from foot trouble which caused continual annoyance and serious concern. According to those who know the best thing to do when the feet are itchy, inflamed, itching, chafed or broken out is to apply a little poslam and note how quickly the difficulty will vanish.

Poslam is the new skin remedy which so rapidly combats the worst cases of eczema and all skin troubles, stopping all itching with the first application. It makes quick work of acne, herpes, tetter, scaly scalp, hives and every other form of itch. Occasional applications in small quantities will quickly banish pimples, hives, blackheads, blotches, etc. A special 50c package of poslam is prepared for those who use poslam for minor skin troubles, and this, as well as the regular two-dollar jar, is on sale at Smith's Drug Co. and the People's Drug Co. as well as all drug stores.

But no one is even asked to purchase Poslam without first obtaining a sample package, which will be sent by mail, free of charge, upon request, by the Emergency Laboratories, 32 West Twenty-fifth street, New York City.

Daily Dental Experiences

Yesterday was not an unusual day with me, yet it was remarkably unusual and satisfactory to a lot of suffering people who sought my aid in their need.

The first thing in the morning I extracted three badly broken down roots. The patient said:

"It was the easiest job he ever had done."

Next was an extraction for a timid nervous patient.

Results—the same. No Pain.

And so on, all day.

Two teeth for another patient who was so gratified at the actual absence of all pain that she said:

"Why, Dr. Richards, you are a Prince of a Dentist."

Then I came a king of boys to witness the fun of one of their number having his teeth drawn.

Now let me tell you, you can't fool a boy. If it hurts, he will tell you no mighty quick.

His teeth came hard, and I asked him if it hurt.

He said it didn't.

On the way home, I passed this same bunch of boys with him in the center telling his experience, and I heard him say again that it didn't hurt him a bit.

He manfully stood by his statement although the other boys sided him.

They were like some other folks. They wouldn't believe it.

The only way to be convinced that I can really take out your teeth without hurting you is to give me a chance to prove it in your own mouth.

AUTOMOBILES HAVE BECOME A FACTOR

Rural Route Mail Men in Many Sections of the State Are Purchasing Them.

Is the rural mail carrier, with his shuffling cart and his picturesque horse or team of horses, to become merely a memory in the minds of a few?

It looks that way at the present time.

For automobiles, under modern prices, are many districts rapidly coming into use.

Wisconsin was among the first of the western or middle western states to take up the automobile delivery. It is not the government that is doing this. The mail men themselves in many parts of the state have taken to the "buzz wagon" in preference to the horse.

It is cheaper and faster, and affords better accommodations, according to the rural carriers, and they all look forward to the time when they can purchase machines.

Around La Crosse, according to government reports, there are nearly twenty small automobiles in use among the rural carriers. They find that with the "auto" they can make trips in from three to three and one-half hours that formerly took practically an entire day. Figuring the value of their time, the carriers say that the machine quickly pays for itself. They have also appeared in other parts of the state.

In the east automobiles have been working along the rural routes for some time. With the good roads of that country, they have proven unusually valuable. Carriers owning machines go over their routes in a few hours and pursue some other employment during the rest of the day.

Wisconsin roads are not the best in the country, however, and according to local authorities, it will be some years before the use of machines is general in this state. They are bound, however, with the gradual cheapening of the vehicles under greater sales, more competition and repeated inventions.

HALF MOON AND CLERMONT TO HAVE PERMANENT HOME.
Two historic crafts as they will appear in Memorial basin.

New York, N. Y.—A permanent home for the Half Moon and the Clermont has been agreed upon by the Hudson-Pulton celebration commission and half of the $30,000 necessary to erect it has been subscribed. Recently it came out that the commission had been quietly hurrying plans in order that the permanent disposition of the two historic reproductions may be settled before any dissatisfaction is shown.

A cablegram from Holland to the effect that public spirited persons there were taking what had become of the Half Moon given to America brought out the facts yesterday.

"The commission has decided," said Herman Rieder, acting chairman of the commission, "that the final resting place of the two crafts shall be something permanent, beautiful, artistic and of an educational memorial nature. It shall be something that this city can point to with pride. It will be a memorial to both Hudson and Fulton, and to the people who backed them with generations of intelligence."

"The only obstacle now is that there is a difference of opinion as to where the memorial sea wall, basin or dry harbor—whatever you will call it—shall be erected. The plan is to build somewhere on the water's edge, running out into the Hudson and enclosing large enough for an anchorage for the two boats and to protect them from the ice in winter and storms in summer."

"Some people would like this at Seventy-second street, near the Soldiers' monument, and some at One Hundred and Twentieth street, near Grant's tomb, and still others want it further up the river, with the idea that this city is growing all the time and that Grant's tomb will be too far downtown in years to come."

"The Half Moon is being carefully careful for at the Brooklyn navy yard and the Clermont is wintering at the yard of her builders on Staten Island. We could not leave them in the Hudson at Seventy-second street because of the ice, of course.

"The plans will be announced when they are completed. I doubt very much if the commission will ultimately decide to put the boats in either of the parks, as has been suggested, because the water front is the place for them, where they will be in position to take part in future celebrations of a like nature with the Hudson-Pulton celebration."

W. P. Montyn of 116 Broad street, aspirant vice consul of the Netherlands, in the absence of the consul, said: "Of course we have nothing to say officially, but personally I should very much like to preserve the Half Moon. I have heard that suggestion made, and it seems to me that more people would have a chance to see the ship if it were to be kept in one of the lakes there."

"But I doubt not the commission will arrive at a wise decision. I don't think that any apprehension has been felt in Holland as to the fate of the ship. Every one knew that New York would preserve it in a fitting manner."

arch 18, showing the building, the magnificent swimming tank, and the new woman's building at the University of Wisconsin, is to be dedicated on the afternoon of March 18 with appropriate exercises, at which Mrs. Anna Garlin Spencer of New York will deliver the principal address, her subject being "The Personal Development and Social Responsibility of Women."

The 1,000 women of the university will be provided, through this new building, with adequate means for physical training, for education in the domestic arts and sciences, and for their general social life. Here are brought together the parlors, club rooms and dining halls, the swimming pool, gymnasium and game rooms, the classroom and laboratory of the department of domestic economy, making the building the center of all of the activities of the women on the campus.

The new building, which is a four-story bluff sandstone structure 85 by 240 feet, roofed with red tile, faces south on University avenue, directly west of Chadbourne Hall, the women's dormitory. This site was chosen that the building might form a part of the proposed women's quadrangle, the center of all interests of the women

Lathrop Hall, which is to be opened May 18, Miss Abby Marlett, who takes a prominent part in the university's affairs. Additional dormitories are to be built about it in the near future.

The two most prominent features of the building are the gymnasium, equipped with all of the apparatus and facilities for physical training, and the big swimming pool, which offers the women students their first opportunity for instruction in aquatic exercises. The pool is 30 by 58 feet, and occupies the entire west wing of the building. The white lining of the tank has a broad marble ledge with brass rails and ladders. Above it, running the full length, is a trolley to which the life belt for the use of beginners is attached.

When the swimmers leave the pool, with their hair "absolutely wringing wet," they rest themselves before the dozen galvanized iron hot air furnaces in a room across the corridor and their locks are quickly dried.

With 60 shower baths, 120 dressing rooms, and 1,200 lockers, accommodations will be adequate for all who will use the swimming pool and the gymnasium.

Four well-equipped bowling alleys offer opportunity for still further healthful exercise of a kind which is already popular among university women, since the teams of the various sororities have been united in a woman's bowling league, which plays an annual schedule of contests for the women's championship.

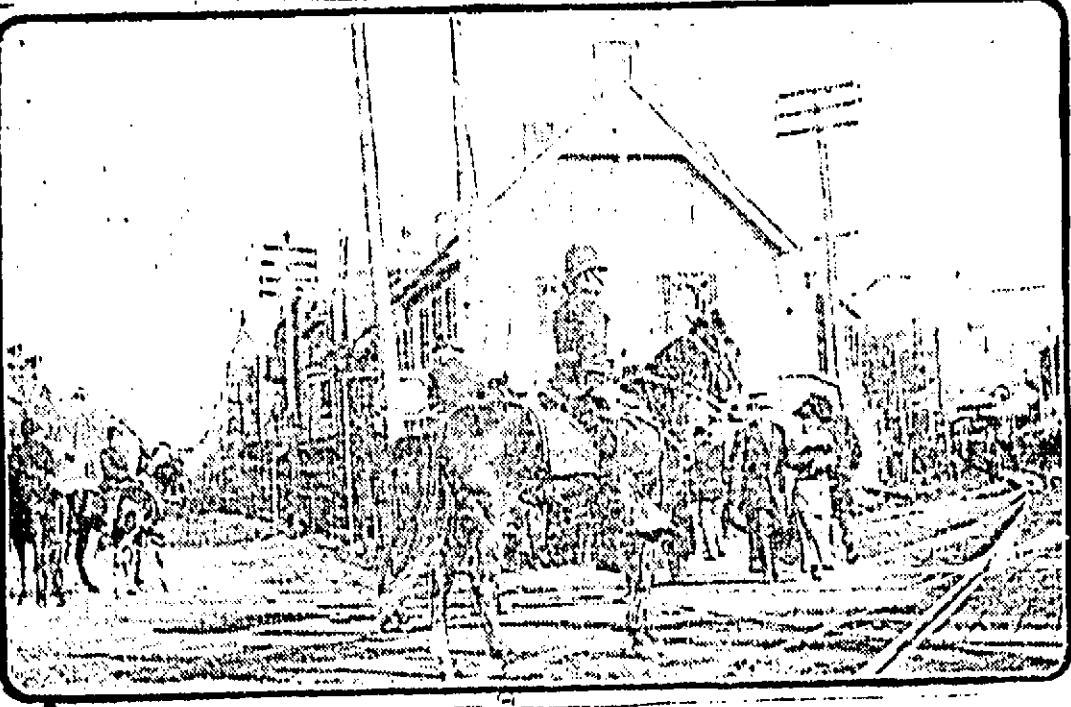

A big gymnasium 60 by 118 feet, occupies the entire main part of the second floor, extending up two floors, with a cork carpeted running track around it above. Two games of basketball may be played simultaneously on the floor, and the equipment for physical development is a complete one.

A concert hall in the east wing on the second floor has an ample stage and gallery, and is so arranged that it may be connected with the main gymnasium by rolling up the stage curtain.

A large dining room, seating 100 girls to be used for serving regular meals.

The club rooms of the girls' literary societies, which have been meeting in class rooms in South and Music halls, are provided in the east wing.

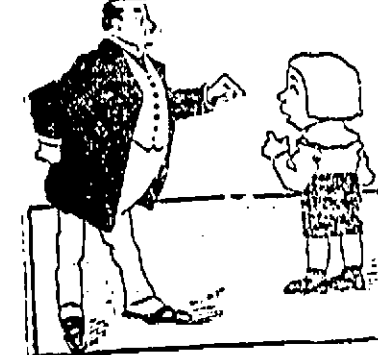

The new woman's building has been named Lathrop Hall in honor of the first chancellor, John H. Lathrop, who directed the affairs of the institution from its foundation in 1848 until 1858.

STATE TROOPERS AT BETHLEHEM, PA.

The conditions at Bethlehem are far more serious for the troopers than at Philadelphia. ## 4 TURN STATE'S EVIDENCE

Describe How Sure Thing Betters
Were Wheeled Out of Big Sums in Fixed Contests by "Millionaires" Club.

Council Bluffs, Ia., Mar. 11.—Four witnesses, who have turned state's evidence, gave sensational testimony in the case of John C. Mabray and others, charged with conspiracy to defraud by unlawful use of the United States mail.

Club Well Organized.
The alleged operations of Mabray and his associates, known as the "Millionaires' club" in New Orleans, Denver and Council Bluffs, was told in a manner which indicated the leaders of the "club" to have an organization never before equaled in this country. "The sporting events" arranged and carried through by these men, according to the witnesses were so well planned that there was not the remotest chance for their victims to escape, and their losses ran from $2,000 to $27,000, according to the ability and willingness of the victims to contribute to the fund.

Selection of Jury Begun.
Following the arraignment of three additional defendants, Ed McCoy, Fred Hull and George R. Morrison, the selection of a jury was begun.

Five farmers were accepted and the other seven are from various branches of business life.

Thomas Gay, one of the indicted men who turned state's evidence, was the first witness called. Gay lived at Streator, Ill., where he had been a professional wrestler, and according to his testimony, he induced James Tierney of that city to go to New Orleans and bet on a "sure" thing, wrestling match in January, 1908. He testified that Tierney lost $10,000, of which he (Gay) received $2,500.

Wrestler Fenby Is Witness.
Ernest Fenby of Shepherd, Mich., another professional wrestler, received letters from Council Bluffs, the authorship of which he testified Mabray induced to him, giving him full dope on fixed wrestling matches and horse races. He with James Coon, a neighbor, undertook to "steer" some friends and were successful in handling three, from whom $14,000 was taken on wrestling matches.

He explained how a bladder full of blood was burst in his opponent's mouth at a critical moment, when the latter would roll over and assume a dying condition. This was the ruse to break up the match and everybody scattered to prevent arrest. He testified to having worked the trick three different times.

gation be ordained and installed as a pastor. If there was power in any pulpit in the land it was due largely to the church that made that pulpit. There were times and places when Christ could do no great work because of unbelief and there are times now when no work can be accomplished because responsiveness is wanting. If there were great orators in the days of Greece's greatest intellectual activity it was because there were responsive audiences to give them the training. Emerson declared: "What you do makes so much noise that I cannot hear what you say." The same condition obtains in many a church. We talk about "reaching the masses" when the truth is that if every family would seek to interest just one individual outside its fold we would have the Kingdom of Heaven at hand in the next generation. We are passing through a critical period. There never was a time when there were greater problems, issues of such tremendous importance. The encroachments of worldly ideas, business interests, wealth and luxury, are taking away the loyalty of men and women and throwing on the pastor the responsibility of keeping alive the spiritual life. Do not think of your pastor as a man hired to do your bidding. If he is worthy of this pulpit, he is a prophet—not a prophet with visions of things which you have no feeling, but one who is better fitted to voice the loftiest inspirations. The speaker related the poetical story of the boy who was belabored by his ungrateful father for his tales of the dream horse with the silver mane, and of the hither afternoon when the old man at last understood and cried out: "When Thou sendest a poet to such blind folk as we, open our eyes, Lord, that we may see."

Installation Prayer.
President E. D. Eaton offered the installation prayer, an eloquent and beautiful plea for the blessing from on high for pastor and people. Rev. H. W. Carter, D. D., of Holist in extending "The Right Hand of Fellowship" welcomed Dr. Eaton to the blessings and the burdens, which are blessings, as one who comes with strong convictions, wide vision, and a warm hearted spirit to do his best for the people and assured him that he and the affection of the brotherhood of the Holist district plus the multifold affection of each individual member.

Nicodemus, the Conserver.
Dr. F. W. Gunsaulus of Chicago delivered the installation sermon, taking as his text Nicodemus, the cautious, scholarly, mature, statesman, elegant, and wealthy conservative who came in the night-time to make a little examination on his own account of the claims of the Galilean who had lately figured in that town's episode, so tumultuous, so unrefined, so unfortunate. With deft characterization and wonderful word imagery he traced through all ages the man, who with the light of the World playing upon his eyeballs, comes—and departs—in the night-time, and found in him the prototype of the modern spirit.

Scholarship is always conservative. There never was a revolution that did not drag its way bleeding and pleading to scholarship. Wendell Phillips held the scholarship of his age until it looked from him bars of judgment. We know how scholarship may be so timid and conservative that it comes to Jesus by night.

Age is conservative. The imagination is looking backward over picture galleries of memory never to be excelled. The once dauntless soul is quivering in the presence of difficulty. Wealth is so sensitive to light that tomorrow, on Wall street, the whisper of a President will be so translated by the inquiry of loyalty of the kings of finance, that we may be on the verge of a panic created by a single breath. Wealth went before Abraham Lincoln in the night-time and said: "Mr. President, our city with its $100,000,000 is in danger of pillage and we ask for a warrant to protect us." And Lincoln answered: "If I had $100,000,000 and was as badly scared as you are, I'd buy a man-of-war and present it to the United States government."

Nationalism is located above the ears—in the brain and not the heart. "Rubbish, we know that thou art a teacher or come from God; for no man can do these miracles that thou doest, except God be with him." Oh master of syllogism and dweller on the Alpine heights of intellectualism, have you no other way of knowing that which comes from God?

Christianity does not come into the world to produce argument and sow seeds of fire on snow-capped mountain slopes and rear impossible harvests.

Nicodemus' name is Greek. He is a Greek in mental attitude and culture, a product of that older thought which was glorious when the lights burned on the Parthenon frieze and the Purple Islands rang with song. It was in age wonderfully like our own. John, only, presents the character and John's gospel will be the most potent for the regeneration in this Twentieth century. Never was the psychology of the present position so delicately etched.

Do you always go to the cause that needs you when you can't lose anything? Poor Nicodemus came in the night and saw the Light of the World and yet—good night, Nicodemus, "Ho that doth the truth, cometh into light." Do you want the light? Truth is at the doorway, at your hand. Do it.

A CHRISTMAS EVE DINNER.

By GRACE ETHEL WEEKS.
(Copyright, 1909, by American Press Association.)

It was hard for Mr. and Mrs. Whitbeck to separate, especially hard, because they had two lovely children, a boy and a girl, aged eight and six. They agreed to leave the legal steps in the hands of Tom Forrest, a lawyer, who was a friend of both. Having heard the story of each, he recommended that the husband leave his wife for awhile and she could then obtain a divorce on the ground of desertion.

After an interval of six months, on the 23d of December the attorney notified his clients that their divorce was about to come to a head and that owing to a division of property that had been agreed upon a meeting was necessary. He summoned them to meet at the home they had occupied the next evening at 5 o'clock.

The couple arrived within a few minutes of each other. They were not at the door and ushered into the library by the lawyer. It was a cheerless day—clouds, chill and snow—but a bright wood fire burned on the hearth. For this forthright and provision the Whitbecks mutely commended their friend the attorney. Mr. Forrest said to them:

"This is probably your last meeting as husband and wife."

He then read an agreement he had drawn up. Then he began to get the documents together for signature. He looked for one he did not find.

"That's bad," he said. "One of the most important papers of the lot I have left in my office. I fear I shall have to ask you to wait till I go and get it."

He went out, leaving the couple together. Neither spoke for some time. Whitbeck went to the window and looked on the dreary sight without. His wife peered at the fire.

"The house looks very comfortable and very natural," said the husband, turning.

"It does," was the laconic reply.

"Far preferable to a bachelor's room in bachelors' apartments."

"Or one in a hotel."

There was a pause.

"I suppose this sad ending to happy days is largely my fault?" said Whitbeck.

"I dare say I had something to do with it," replied the wife.

Another pause.

"Rather melancholy," the husband said again. "That this is the last view we shall take, at least together, of our once happy home."

"Very melancholy."

Nothing more was said for ten minutes. Then the wife remarked that Tom was gone a long while and the fire needed more wood. Whitbeck said that some one must be in charge and he would ring. He touched the electric button, and who should respond but the maid they had left there six months before.

"Why, Nancy?" exclaimed husband and wife together.

"I'm glad to see you both back," said the girl, smiling. "What is it, mamma?"

"W-w-why," she stammered, "it's wood."

The girl went out and brought wood.

"I suppose you'll have dinner the same time as before?" she said.

"Dinner?"

"Yes'm. The table's laid now in the dining room."

The husband and wife looked at each other.

"The same hour, Nancy," said Whitbeck—half past 6. And the maid departed.

"This is Tom's doing," said Mr. Whitbeck.

"I wonder what it all means," remarked Mrs. Whitbeck.

"It means, sweetheart," replied her husband, putting his arms about her, "that we've seen a pair of snakes and Tom has known it and saved us."

At that moment Nancy opened the door, to find Mr. and Mrs. Whitbeck, who had come to sign papers for a perpetual separation, in each other's arms.

"Dinner's ready," she said, looking at the ceiling.

The table was set for four. On it was a bottle of champagne with Tom Forrest's card dangling to it. On the card was written:

Divorce be hanged! You need a dose of lunacy, and I have given it to you. I have never entered a plea for divorce and never intended to do so.

"Oh, dear!" exclaimed the wife. "How I wish I had brought the children!"

"Can't we send for them?"

"The door opened, and there was Tom Forrest, while a boy and a girl bounded into the room, jumped to their father's neck and clung there.

"I knew you'd want them far more than that misleading paper," said Forrest. "So I jumped into a cab and went for them."

"Oh, papa," cried the boy, "I felt you'd come home for Christmas."

"Mamma said only yesterday," the girl added, "that she wished papa could be with us today and tomorrow. She was crying too."

"Thank heaven, it's not too late!" said the father, taking out his watch. "It is only half past 6. We have the whole evening after the children go to bed for—"

The mother knew well enough that he meant they had time for buying a Christmas outfit.

"Dine with us, Tom," said Whitbeck.

"Not I. Wouldn't intrude for the world."

She Was Interested.

"Doctor, you seem preoccupied."

"Yes; I have just discovered a new disease."

"How nice! And will it be very expensive to treat?"

"No."

"Well," moralized Mr. Stoplate, "we are here today and gone tomorrow."

"Yes," answered Miss Bourde, glancing at the clock. "I've noticed that about you."

Managers Wm. A. Brady and Joseph G. Crisler's big production of George Broadhurst's great play, "The Man of the Hour," with a special company, character moves and breathes and lives a natural life. It is a play undiminished for early production at the Myers theatre, Friday, March 11, for the people who like their heart strings played upon, and who cling to the old beliefs about rugged honesty and love for women and home. A more recital of the story conveys little of the idea of the sparkling charm that is in the play; it is full of surprises, heart interest, apt comedy and a round-up in which everybody rejoices.

Uncle Walt THE POET PHILOSOPHER

By WALT MASON.
(Copyright, 1903, by George Mathews Adams.)

To be a hermit in the virgin woods, To roam, unwashed, the sylvan solitudes! That is the graft to which ambition turns, that is the life for which my spirit yearns! To dwell serenely in a sheltered cave, to eat raw turnips, and to cense to shave; no more to hear complaining people roar about the price of foodstuffs at the store; no more to hear the talkative tell us how to save the country, bound for ruin now; no more to dodge the dreary bore who quotes the tariff rates on whiskeys, penes and goats. Oh, I am tired of all the windy crew, who talk and talk, until the air is blue; each has a cure for all the nation's ills. Like some quack doctor with his basewood pills; each is indignant that he isn't called, to dope the country, sick and worn, and babbled to pour his nostrum down the nation's throat, and thereby get that weary nation's good. A quiet man, who would sedately pass, detesting noise, and talk, and sounding brass, has little chance his pathway to pursue, he's hounded down by all the talkative crew; a little while he may his journey wend, but they will drive him hushouse in the end. To be a hermit, far from city streets! To wear long whiskers and to live on beets! That is the dream that haunts my fevered brain; the urban life has given me a pain.

Making People Buy
If everybody knew all about your goods, what they were like and why they were good, they would still require advertising.
There are hundreds of conditions which everyone believes are true, but belief does not always produce desire—action.
Frank Van Camp with his first advertising efforts convinced thousands that he had good beans, but the "knack" of making people go into the store and buy them in large quantities was an achievement of comparatively recent origin.
Advertising will make people hungry for goods which they already know all about.
It's the suggestive, "do it now" idea which turns the trick.
Therefore, advertising cannot be looked upon as a banquet.
It must be a steady diet. We are always glad to "talk things over."

BAD ROADS PLAYING AN IMPORTANT PART

Tobacco Men Have Trouble in Delivering Their Crops to the Receivers.

Throughout the county the same story is told of delay in handling last year's tobacco crop owing to bad roads. While there has been plenty of snow all winter and sleighing has been considered good, still in many of the rural districts the snow has been so deep that it has been impossible to haul large loads. Now come the spring thaws and the roads are in even worse condition than ever. According to the Edgerton Tobacco Reporter, travel on the country roads has been so badly handicapped the past week as to prevent much movement of buyers and business has slackened away in consequence. There seems to be disposition to take over more of the remnants of the crop when they can be lifted at from 7 to 8 cents and with the coming of spring growers are willing to make some concessions, so it seems likely the crop will be quite closely gathered in.

Nothing has occurred in the old leaf markets, that brings much encouragement. A general complaint of a dull trade comes also from the eastern centers, and local trade is invariably of small orders. Traveling is being hurried along as rapidly as possible and big delivery days are common at all receiving points in the growing sections. It is quite probable that nearly 75 per cent of the purchases have already been taken in. Warehouse work is also being pushed as rapidly as the help situation will warrant, for there is a scarcity at most packing points.

The shipments out of storage reach 856 cases and 12 carloads of bundles to all points from this market for the week. Since last report 80 carloads have been received from outlying points for warehouse handling. Several things that happened to last season's tobacco crop ought to teach the growers to use greater care in the character of the seed used hereafter. For some years past growers have been getting further and further away from the genuine Spanish type of leaf and into a larger and coarser style of tobacco because the demand for a large machine binder made a sale of this class of tobacco well up towards the price of the smaller varieties. Buyers, however, have become more discriminating of late in making their selections and the reasons therefor will become at once apparent when they are known. First, the large leaf varieties require a longer season to grow and mature and when frosts come at as early a date as last season it was found that while most of the Spanish varieties were secured and out of the way of the freeze, it was the late coarse stuff that remained in the fields to suffer. Then again, when it came to the cure, the genuine Spanish leaf being well ripened cured out quickly and contained very little or no fat stems which have been found to be so abundant in the later harvested crops. Being naturally a smaller leaf there was less danger of overcuring the sheds so liability for shed burn, pole rot and other damage was greatly lessened. These in brief are the reasons why buyers are all the time hunting for the crop grown from Spanish seed. Experience has proven to them that it is not only a more desirable purchase, but the trade demands a smaller and finer quality of leaf which is by all odds the safest type of tobacco to deal in. This is just the time of year when the farmers should take note of those things when discussing the seed question for another crop. The opinion seems to be pretty well formed that the heavier Wisconsin growers stick to the original Spanish varieties of tobacco the better reputation the state will secure in the markets of the country.

COMMERCIAL CLUB ELECTED OFFICERS

At Regular Meeting and Banquet Held Last Night—New Industries for City Discussed.

Election of officers and a discussion of several new factories that have been secured or are desired for Janesville, were the principal matters which came up at the regular monthly meeting and banquet of the Commercial club held at the Myers House last night.

All the officers now serving were re-elected for the coming year. They are: George S. Parker, president; George F. Kimball, vice president; H. H. Bliss, secretary; and P. J. Mount, treasurer. At the meeting last night Judge C. L. Field acted as secretary pro tem in the absence of H. H. Bliss.

With regard to new industries for Janesville, Harry Garbutt stated that promoters are looking over the field with a view of establishing a candy factory here and that La Crosse was making an effort to procure the enterprise. To give the members of the club a definite idea of what the new auto plant would mean for this city, Joseph Weber gave a summary of its many desirable points and Judge Field read the articles of agreement signed by the officers and the Janesville committee which had charge of the undertaking of floating the stock.

Another new industry discussed was the Willard-Harlow factory, which has been incorporated and which will manufacture automobile specialties and steam heating plants at the old pearl button plant at Spring Brook. P. H. Korst, who was familiar with the plans of the company, led the discussion.

The proposition to merge the Commercial club with the newly organized Industrial and Commercial club of Janesville received its quietus when the matter was put to a vote and all present voted against it.

In behalf of R. M. Bostwick, Jr., George M. McKee and George S. Parker, A. E. Blumhagen extended an invitation for the club to use the above named gentlemen's luncheon on the annual trip up the river next summer. The invitation was accepted. Other actions taken by the club were the election of Judge C. L. Field to an honorary membership in the club, and invitations to Messrs. Norling and Chas. of the Monitor company, De Chasie of the new candy factory, and Willard of the Willard-Harlow firm to attend the next meeting of the club.

It was also decided to hold the election of committees at the next meeting and after a vote of thanks had been extended to Mrs. McNeil for the excellent dinner served, the club adjourned for one month.

Although the "Giants" have a good running start in the City Bowling league's pennant race, there is a pretty tight being waged for second place by the "Cubs," "Reds" and "Pirates." In the games last night at Hookett's alleys, in which the "Pirates" took two out of three from the "Tigers," Gibson of the latter team made two good scores, which were high for the evening, 245 and 216. TRIAL OF THREE SET FOR MONDAY

STATE WOULD IMPLICATE WIDOW, HER FATHER, DOCTOR

IN JOHN SAYLER MURDER

Scandals in High Life Involved in Cases to be Threshed Out at Watseka, Ill.

Watseka, Ill., March 11.—Public interest in the Sayler murder trial is growing more intense as the time for the opening of the trial approaches, which is set for next Monday. The case, undoubtedly the most sensational ever known in this section of the State, will be heard before the District Court and promises to be a "cause celebre" of the State. The intensity of the interest taken by the community in the case is due not only to the sensational details of the crime and of the conditions which led to it, but also to the fact that the murdered man and those accused of being his slayers and their respective relatives are known to everybody throughout the county and even beyond its limits.

Immediately after the crime was committed, on July 11, 1909, popular feeling in the County was so strong that it would have been practically impossible to obtain a jury of twelve unbiased men to try the three persons charged with the murder. But since then the excitement has cooled down considerably and it is believed that the selection of the jury will not be exceedingly difficult. The accused, having wealthy family connections, the counsel that money could procure and no effort will be spared to save them from conviction, which would mean hanging or lifelong imprisonment.

The persons to be tried for the murder of John Byron Sayler, the Crescent City banker and live stock broker, are Dr. William P. Miller, Mrs. Lucy Sayler, the widow of the murdered man and her father, John Grander, Ira Grander, a brother of Mrs. Sayler is also under indictment, but merely as an accessory after the fact. State's attorney John C. Phillips will conduct the prosecution and he professes to feel sure of the conviction of the accused.

John Byron Sayler was killed in his own house by Dr. William P. Miller about ten o'clock on the night of July 11, 1909. "The defense will claim that the deed was an act of self-defense and that Dr. Miller did not fire the fatal shots until after Sayler had attacked him with a hatchet. The prosecution, however, will try to prove that the act was premeditated murder and was the result of a conspiracy between Dr. Miller, Mrs. Sayler and her father. It appears that for many years Dr. Miller and Mrs. Sayler entertained intimate relations which were the talk of the town and caused the community socially to ostracize both the doctor and his affinity. It is known that Sayler, the victim of the murder, had knowledge of the relations existing between his wife and Dr. Miller for many years, but that for the sake of his daughter he refrained from taking legal steps to obtain a divorce. Dr. Miller's wife, a lovable and highly respected woman, also knew of the scandalous relations of her husband, but would not seek separation, fearing that the scandal connected with a divorce suit would blight the life of her boy.

It is said that Dr. Miller and his affinity made several attempts to rid themselves of their respective legal partners and even tried to involve Sayler into the appearance of an entanglement with Mrs. Miller, but failed in every instance. It is believed and will be charged by the prosecution that becoming desperate the doctor and his affinity resorted to the extreme remedy of killing the man who stood in their way. What happened at the Sayler residence on the night of the murder only the persons charged with the murder know. They claim that Sayler came into the room in which Mrs. Sayler, her father and Dr. Miller were about to play a game of cards that they argued him to join the game, but that he refused and, without further provocation, attacked Dr. Miller with a hatchet. They insist that Dr. Miller merely acted in self defense when he shot Sayler. Witnesses who entered the room of the murder shortly after the shooting assert that there was no hatchet in the room at that time and if one was found there, it must have been placed there later in an attempt to manufacture evidence.

LA CROSSE SLIPPED ONE OVER TO LOCALS

High School Team Defeated in Game at Tournament Last Evening

Through a play of unusually hard luck the Janesville high school basketball team last evening lost the game to the La Crosse team in the tournament at Madison. The La Crosse five is one of the strongest of the northwestern section of the state and defeated Superior, the undisputed "champs" of the extreme northern section by a score of 25 to 19. In addition to this, the Bower City players suffered a playing slump and showed neither the form exhibited in the Oconto game, nor anywhere near their usual style of playing.

Their defeat does not eliminate them from the race for the championship, if they can pull up in their playing. Today a consolation tournament, in which the defeated teams will participate, will be started in which the losing teams will meet the winner of all games on Saturday evening.

The teams lined up last evening as follows:

Field baskets—Murphy, 2; Korst 1; Hemming, 1; Green 1; Walker, 3; Keeler, 2; Bradish, 4; Shaw, 1. Free throws—Murphy, 3; Bradish, 4.

Referee—Charles Davies, Milwaukee. Umpire—Kudish, Milwaukee.

"ELGIN BOARD" TO BE PUT ON THE GRILL

Members Are to Be Summoned Before Senate Committee Inquiring Into Cost of Living.

Washington, Mar. 11.—The senate committee which is making an inquiry into the cost of living announced that the "Elgin Board," which, it is alleged, represents the "butter trust," must show why they arbitrarily fix the price of butter regardless of the law of supply and demand.

The members of this mysterious board are to be summoned to Washington to tell the committee what they know about fixing the price of butter. The evidence obtained from the witnesses thus far before the committee shows conclusively that the price of butter in every section of the country is fixed as rigidly at Elgin once a week as the price of wheat is regulated by the quotations at Liverpool. Various dealers have told the committee how the price of their butter was cut seven cents on the same day and how ever since this committee began its work the price has been kept down.

BANKER MARKER'S TRIAL ON.

Is Charged with Embezzling $100,000 from Tipton Bank.

Indianapolis, Ind., Mar. 11.—Charged with embezzling $100,000 of the funds of the First National bank of Tipton, Ind., William H. Marker, formerly cashier of the bank, was placed on trial before a jury in the United States court of this district.

Marker's brother, Noah R. Marker, former assistant cashier of the bank, indicted jointly with him on the charge of complicity in the embezzlement, will have a separate trial. The United States district attorney, Charles W. Miller, in his opening address to the jury said the government expected to prove, in addition to the embezzlement, that William H. Marker had misappropriated thousands of dollars of the cash of the bank for the benefit of several persons, including himself, and that he had made false reports of the condition of the bank to the controller of the treasury.

NEW CHARGE IN HYDE'S CASE.

Asserted Doctor Tried to Get Wife Will Her Property to Him.

Kansas City, Mo., Mar. 11.—It developed that during the trial of Dr. B. C. Hyde, on a charge of poisoning Col. Thomas H. Swope, here next month, the prosecution will attempt to show that following a suggestion made to her Mrs. Hyde made a will bequeathing all her property to her husband. Under the will of Col. Swope, Mrs. Hyde was a beneficiary to the amount of more than $300,000.

The will alleged to have been made by Mrs. Hyde, the Swope attorneys say, was drawn up soon after Dr. Hyde's dismissal from the Swope home, where he had been treating the Swopes. In the trial of Dr. Hyde an attempt will be made to show that Mrs. Hyde was taken seriously ill; that it was suggested to her that an operation might be necessary, and that it was also suggested that she make her will leaving all her property to her husband in the event that the operation was not a success. Later it was found, the Swope attorneys say, that the operation was not necessary.

Curious Wireless Message. Probably one of the most curious wireless messages ever sent or received was recently flashed from the trans-Atlantic liner Amerika to a gas company in New York. Come and See the New Gall Cure Collar

It is without question the best hair-stuffed collar made. It is made by taking a pad of genuine curled hair 5 inches thick formed over a layer of cotton, into a pad. The collar is built over this hair pad in such a way that the curled hair pad is separated from the skin of the horse by the leather or fabric of which the collar is made. The result is that it is impossible to gall a horse if the collar fits.

The curled hair pad will hold its shape until the collar is worn out. The sweat from the animal will not rot straw or cotton, but curled hair never gives. A Gall Cure Collar is constantly ventilating itself, thereby giving it double life.

A Gall Cure Collar with russet leather face, all along sewed, faced with Gall Cure Curled Hair Pad, with cloth lining, sole leather cups, double strength throat, band finished about 15-inch draft, $3.50.

Gall Cure Collar, same as above, 17-inch draft, $4.00.

Truck Case Gall Cure Collar, 17-inch draft, $4.50.

ONE DOSE ENDS INDIGESTION, GAS HEARTBURN OR STOMACH HEADACHE

Relief in five minutes awaits every man or woman who suffers from a bad stomach.

Why not get some now—this moment, and forever rid yourself of stomach trouble and indigestion? A dieted stomach gets the blues and grumbles. Give it a good eat, then take Pape's Diaphepsin to start the digestive juices working. There will be no dyspepsia or belching of gas or eructations of undigested food; no feeling like a lump of lead in the stomach or heartburn, sick headache and dizziness, and your food will not ferment and poison your breath with nauseous odors.

Pape's Diaphepsin costs only 50 cents for a large case at any drug store here, and will relieve the most obstinate case of indigestion and upset stomach in five minutes.

There is nothing else better to take. One from stomach and cleanse the stomach and intestines, and, besides, one single dose will digest and prepare for assimilation into the blood all your food the same as a sound, healthy stomach would do it.

When Diaphepsin works, your stomach roars—roars itself in order, cleans up—and then you feel like eating when you come to the table, and what you eat will do you good.

Absolute relief from all stomach misery is waiting for you as soon as you decide to take a little Diaphepsin. Tell your druggist that you want Pape's Diaphepsin, because you want to become thoroughly cured this time.

Remember, if your stomach feels out-of-order and uncomfortable now can get relief in five minutes.
